nations for the protection of wild animals in the breeding season. The British claimed the right to exterminate the species for the sake of small temporary profit. They did not meet the question as to whether the right exists, but exhausted the resources of the ablest advocacy to evade it.

The British Counsel approached the question in every direction except a straightforwad one. They pretended to inquire whether the United States was justified in selzing British vessels sengaged in pelagic seal-hunting. Phelps declared there was no such question before the tribunal. After remarking that the British assertion that the United States wished to declare the Bering Sea a mare clausum is untrue. Phelps said the seizure of pelagic sealing vessels was effected under the American claims to a right to protect the seals. Great Britain has veered around, he said, after the arbitration treaty was concluded, and has based her cause upon an elaborate defense of pelagic sealing, insisting no regulations would be acceptable to her which were inconsistent with the prosperity of the pelagic hunters. By Telegraph to The Times. WASHINGTON, June 22 .- (By the Associated Press.) Secretary Carlisle has directed Treasurer Morgan to anticipate the payment of the July inter-est on the 4 per cent. United States bonds and on the Pacific railroad bonds. The checks in payment of the interest The checks in payment of the interest will be placed in the mail Sunday afternoon, or earlier if possible, and all subtreasurers of the United States will be instructed to cash them on presentation. The total interest on both sets of bonds aggregates $7,534,000; of which $1,900,000 is for the Pacific railroad bonds, and is for the Pacific railroad bonds, and $5,634,000 for the 4 per cent. bonds. The action of Secretary Carlisle is taken to relieve the tightness in the money center.

The crack bouts scheduled to take place before the Coney Island Athletic Club to-night, proved to be a drawing card Every one of the six men were sidered to be so well equalized that it was difficult to pick a winner, and the betting on each event was pretty near even. Mike Leonard was the favorite over George Reynolds. Billy Ernst had a large number of ad-mirers, but Billy Vernon was a slight favorite in the betting. Jim Daly, the former sparring partner of Jim Cor-bett, had a large following, but the powers of Joe Butler, the colored man, were not overlooked. There was a representative sporting audience of 5000 present when the proceedings

Madrid, June 22.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Official investigation into the bomb explosion at the residence of Señor Canovas del Castillo Tuesday, led to the discovery of a plot that embraces Anarchists in several Enropean countries. He also told the police the name of the man seen with him near the residence of Castillo prior to the explosion, but who disappeared just before the explosion occurred. He says the only object was to frighten the bourgeoisie, and remind them of the existence of the Anarchists. Letters seized show the conspiracy was international. The letters cover details of plans for the commission of dytails of plans for the commission of gy-mamite outrages not only in Madrid and Valencia, but Brussels and other for-eign cities. The supposition, based upon letters found in the clothing of the man killed by the explosion, that the dead man was the well-known An-archist, Ernesto Alvarez, proved incor-rect. THE CAPITAL REMOVAL.

Synopsis of Judge Grant's Decision Against the Removal.

enator Hart's Vote Must Be Counted-The Constitutional Amendmen However, Not Properly Passed. Against Certifying.

SACRAMENTO (Cal.,) June 22 .- (By the Associated Press.) Judge Grant, of the Superior Court of Yolo county. has filed a decision in favor of the plaintiff in the now celebrated case of Livermore vs. Waite, the capital re-moval case. The Judge finds against the defendants' contention that infunction is not a proper remedy. He finds against the plaintiff on the contention that the constitutional amend ment did not receive a two-thirds vote of all members, though he says: "I know of no way to take advantage o these men's refusal to respect the rights of one of their members." decision allows that Hart's vote must be counted in the affirmative, notwithstanding the sharp practice by which it was so entered and held. The whole proceeding in both houses was characterized by an indecent haste, unbecoming in any deliberative body, and especially so in the Senate of the great State of California, an assembly popularly supposed to be composed of the "most potent, grave and reverend seigniors" to be found in the realm. The Judge decides against the plaintiff also in the contention that the same in both houses.

He then comes to consider what he calls the "vital point in the case;" decision allows that Hart's vote must amendment voted on was not the same in both houses. He then comes to consider what he calls the "vital point in the case;" that is, whether the constitutional amendment was properly passed under the Constitution. He decided it was not; that it should have been enacted by a bill passed in both houses and signed by the Governor. He says: "The framers of the Constitution, in light of past experience, hedged about the seat of government with these constitutional safeguards against hasty and ill-advised removal. Therefore had they been gifted with the spirit of prophecy, they could not have provided with greater care against an emergency. I conclude the Senate constitutional amendment No. 23 is not within the meaning of sec. 1 of art. 20; and that if adopted and ratified by the people it would be ineffectual for the purpose contemplated by its authors."

After dwelling on another point, that no law was passed by the Legislature submitting this constitutional amendment to a vote of the people. Judge Grant concludes: "For the purpose of this case it is sufficient to say that if we concede that the present election law, as found in the Political pose of this case it is sufficient to say that if we concede that the present election law, as found in the Political Code, has sufficient provision for the submission of all proposed constitutional amendments to a vote of the people, still the Senate constitutional amendment No. 23 is ineffectual in that it is not a law within the meaning of sec. I of art. 20 of the Constitution of 1879, I therefore conclude that the plaintiff is entitled to judgment, but as it appears that the proposed amendment towit, Senate constitutional amendment No. 23 has already been published with the statutes of 1892 with the required marginal notes, and has been regularly indexed, that part of the original restraining order entered herein need not be continued in force. been regularly indexed, that part of the original restraining order entered herein need not be continued in force, but so much of the order as restrains defendant from certifying said con-stitutional amendment No. 23 to the county clerk of each county of the State under the provisions of sec. 1 of art. 20 of the Political Code should be made perpetual.

He got as far as "I saw to-day Clemenceau," when M. de Velle interrupted him and begged the president of the chamber to consider the matter an international question. M. Millevoye further accused M. Clemenceau of delivering to England a private letter that passed between Ribot, lately Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs, and the French Minister to Egypt, and between M. Ribot and the French Ambassador at Constantinople. He produced a list of names of persons and papers whom he alleged England had bribed, and the amount of money given as bribes. He read-amid an uproar that almost drowned his voice: "Temps, 150,000; Le Matin, 130,000; Le Jour, 115,000; Rochefort, 180,000; Clemenceau, f50,000. At this point the uproar and confusion in the chamber became tremendous. Members of the extreme left rose, and demands were made that Millevoye leave the chamber. M. THE COURTS.

The Peterson Assault Case is

A Very Plausible Story Told by the

He Says He Took No Part in the Redondo Trouble.

A Chinaman Fined $100 for Violation the Postal Laws-Orders Made in Regular Cases-

The taking of evidence in the case of People vs. Thomas Peterson, the charge being assault with a deadly weapon, took up nearly the whole of vesterday's session of court in Department One, only a part of the argument having been made at 5:30 o'clock, when an ad ournment was taken until this morning.

The prosecution, reviewing its case dwelt upon the facts of the story as presented by it for the consideration of the Court and jury. The schooner Halcyon was known to have on board when she anchored at Redondo on the night of May 5 last a non-union crew. Many of the union men had previously cre-ated an almost constant disturb-ance at both San Pedro and Redondo whenever an attempt was made to ship non-union crews. The Halcyon to ship non-union crews. The Halcyon lay-to on the night in question within ten feet of the wharf preparatory to discharging her cargo of lumber on the following morning. Toward midnight a strange sailboat was seen coming toward the schooner by the watch, and it soon ran up close, and several men climbed up the side. They were all armed and threatened the captain with death if he interened the captain with death if he interened the captain with death if he inter ened the captain with death if he interfered with their movements. Their intention was to force the non-union men to leave the ship. The captain fired upon them and they then, in haste, tumbled back into the boat and rowed off. On the morning following a boat was found drifting in San Pedro Harbor, containing the dead body of a man who was found drifting in San Pedro Harbor, containing the dead body of a man who was known to be a union sailor. Then, when the work of unleading the Haleyon was commenced at Redondo, Peterson emerged suddenly from the hold, where, it was supposed, he had taken refuge, not being able to get away in the boat with his companions. There was little doubt but that the dead man found in the boat at San Pedro had been one of the attacking party and that he had the attacking party and that he had been hit by a bullet fired by the Halcyon orew. All of the circumstances went to show that Peterson had been a leader of the union men, and that he should be held on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon. This was the case for the people.

When Peterson himself took the stand When Peterson himself took the stand in defense he stated that on the day of the trouble he was in San Pedro. He was out of work, and had been drinking some. In the afternoon he resolved to go to Redondo and try his luck there, so he bought a pint of whisky and started out for that place on foot. He arrived there that night, and immediately began looking for work. Early on the morning of May 5 he went down to the wharf and tried to find a friend of his whom he believed to be around the wharf and tried to find a friend of his whom he believed to be around the dock. Not finding him on the wharf he dropped across on to the Halcyon and went through the hatchway, expecting to find his man down below. Then he came up the main hatch and was confronted by the captain of the schooner. fronted by the captain of the schooner, who asked him what he had been doing. He said emphatically that he was innocent of the charge, and that he took no part in the disturbance.

The Great Northern also decided to places on sale, commencing July 4, 3000 mile tickets good for one year for $75, tickets to be good over entire system, Sioux City and Northern and over the Canadian Pacific between Neche and Winnipeg. The Western Passenger Association, which is greatly disturbed by the actions of the Great Northern, will meet June 27, to take suitable action. The opinion among the general passenger ager agents is that the Union Pacific will not enter the fight, preferring rather to abandon Montana business. kane, Seattle, Tacoma, Vancouver and will not enter the fight, preferring rather to abandon Montana business.

THE READING PLAN FAILED. PHILADELPHIA, June 22 .- [By the Associated Press.] The board of managers of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad today decided to abandon the plan for the rehabilitation of the company, because of the required number of assents from the general mortgage bondholders and stockholders not being obtained.

Total number assents $31,356,000 of general mortgage bonds, about $9,-000,000 short, and 411,218 shares of stock; 68,782 short. An official of the company said after the meeting that foreclosure is now regarded as inevitable.

Ment.

All the Chicago roads are watching their conductors more carefully than ever. The vastly increased business on account of the World's Fair gives much larger opportunities for sequestrating cash fares, but the result so far of the watchfulness has been of but little effect, except to show that no watchfulness full. fect, except to show that no watchful ness was needed.

Regarding the convention to consider the interstate railway from Dakota to the Gulf of Mexico to be held at Lincoln, Neb., June 28, the Baltimore Manufacturers' Record publishes opinions of several governors. Govs. Fishack of Arkansas and Sheidon of South Dakota favor building the road, but are opposed to State control. All of the governors except Sheldon will send delegates to the convention.

A dispatch from Omaha says that rede legates to the convention.

A dispatch from Omaha says that retrenchment is the order that has been issued from Union Pacific headquarters, and the next thirty days will show a material reduction among the employés of the system, mainly confined to the line. General Manager Dickson said: "Freight rates are in a state of chaos, passenger rates about holding their own. The difficulties between transcontinental lines over freight rates have materially lessened our earnings. With quarrels in passenger circles, although they have seemingly been settled, the earnings are not commensurate with the expenses." surate with the expenses.'

Quite a Smashup.

Quite a Smashup.

A horse hitched in a buggy; a woman driving; runaway, smashup, and there you are. The above train of incidents occurred at about 7 o'clock last evening at the corner of Montreal street and Bellevue avenue. At the hour named two colored women, a Miss Julia Williams of No. 727 Montreal street with a friend, Mrs. W. Wade, were driving south on Montreal street when one of the traces of the harness became loose. Miss Williams endeavored to hold the horse, but as there is quite a hill at the spot named, she found it impossible and devoted her energies to keeping the animal in the middle of the road. Just beyond the corner the rig smashed into a fence, throwing both occupants with great violence to the ground. Mrs. Wade was not injured, but Miss Williams was picked up unconsicious and carried into a house near by. Medical assistance was quickly at hand, when it was found that she had received no injuries beyond a bad shaking up. The buggy was considerably damaged, but the horse was uninjured. It was a very fortunate escape.

There was a post mortem examination before the inquest, which was held at Mrs. Alexander's residence. Mrs. Hamilton, the mother of the deceased, was the first witness. Two or three times, while siving her testimony. The broke down so that it would be several seconds before she could proceed. Mrs. Hamilton swore that the girl was 14 years of age, and had frequently complained of a headache during the past few months. The deceased became if Tuesday morning, and Dr. Hagan was called. When he arrived the patient was resting quietly. Later in the day the girl grew much worse, and died late in the evening. The testimony of Mrs. Alexander was corroborative of that given by the mother of the deceased.

Sam Hamilton, the father of the girl, swore that he had not seen her for about a month preceding her death. He was not informed of her illness until after she died. He had known of her complaining frequently of a headache for Drs. Hagan, Alnsworth, Wernegk and Murphy were called in one at a time. Their testimony agreed closely, and

Drs. Hagan, Ainsworth, Wernegk and Murphy were called in one at a time. Their testimony agreed closely, and was to the effect that the girl was affilicted with kidney trouble, apparently, Bright's disease. That disorder would account for all the symptoms observed in the case.

After being alone for a short time, the jury rendered a verdict of death from disease of the kidneys.

Financial Strength of the Nation A review of the local financial field shows that the situation has materially mproved since yesterday.

The runs on the banks have grown "smaller and beautifully less," until they have practically ceased.

The Los Angeles National Bank, which has so bravely weathered the storm, declined an offer of substantial support which was tendered yesterday. The receipts went a long way toward making up for the withdrawals.

The Farmers' and Merchants' and the panic. But, as says the New York Bank of America both refused to accept Commercial Advertiser, the fact that assistance.

A large amount of money has been received from the outside, and more is on the way.

Many persons who withdrew their deposits during the excitement have since replaced them in the same or other banks. The people of Los Angeles are coming to their senses and beginning to wonder what the trouble was all about.

It is true that several outside banks in Orange, San Bernardino and Lo Angeles counties have closed their cautionary measure than from neces sity, and these banks were so closely affilated with those of this city that the result might have been expected.

It may safely be stated that the sit nation at present is better than it has been at any time since this causeless panic commenced.

There are some sensible, so-called Democratic papers, but the secret of the soundness of their faith may be found in the fact that they are really advocating Republican principles. The Richmond (Va.) Dispatch is out flatfooted against any free trade legislation, and it does not want State banking revived, either. The Dispatch is a trusty Democratic newspaper. This is what it says to a contemporary:

what it says to a contemporary:
"Does the Advance suppose that the business men of Virginia are going to recommend the substitution of a wild-cat banking system for the present system of national banks? Are these men in favor of 'a tariff for 'revenue only'—a tariff which, as we have here-tofore shown, would abolish the free breakfast table and advance the prices of sugar, tea, coffee, etc.? Are these men opposed to countervalling duties levied not for the purpose of rising revenue but solely to protect our own citizens from ruinous competition?"

Monetary Situation in Adjoining Counties-Temporary Suspension of Several of the Smaller Banks Reported.

With the opening of the third and final day of the financial excitement in Los Angeles, it became apparent that the run on the banks was in its dying stages. There was a noticeable lack of anxious faces on the streets and the corners, where for two days previously deserted. A small number of people, in comparison with former days' crowds, began o gather in front of the Los Angeles ational Bank, and by 9:30 o'clock there were exactly thirty-seven in line. Of these twenty-eight were men and nine women. At two minutes before 10 the front doors of the bank were opened and President Bonebrake appeared. Cheers greeted him, and many friends rushed up to offer congratulations. The first ones in the line were admitted to the bank and were quickly disposed to the bank and were quickly disposed of. Several depositors, who were near the rear end of the line, seeing that the bank was again open, deserted their places. Among these was a colored man, who said to the reporter, "I wouldn't stand in that line any more in the broiling sun for $10 an hour. I've got about $80 in the bank, and it's going to stay there. If they we store got about 880 in the bank, and it's going to stay there. If they've stood the run for two days they can stand it for a week. I ain't a bit afraid any more."

At noon there were just six people in line, and atc12:30 it had entirely disappeared. As the tail-ender ascended the steps a number of spectators set up a cheer. Thus ended the run on the Los Angeles National Bank and the Los Angeles National Bank and the Los Angeles National Bank and the financial flurry in Los Angeles.

In the afternoon there was a movement on foot among several admiring citizens to serenade the Los Angeles National Bank, but Maj. Bonebrake heard of it and dissuaded the projectors from carrying out their purpose.

Near the closing hour a Times reporter interviewed President Bonebrake. The Major said he was confi brake. The Major said he was conn-dent the danger was now over. Heavy assistance had been offered by moneyed men in this city, but declined with many thanks, as the bank was now fully able to take care of itself. The Major furthermore said that the deposits for the day almost equaled the withdrawals. With such a showing, there is no doubt the senseless panic has ended.

THE PARMERS' AND MERCHANTS'. At this bank the day passed without the least sign of a run, in fact, if any thing, the "boot was on the other leg."
At 2 o'clock it was authoritatively known that so far the deposits for the day had exceeded withdrawals by day had exceeded withdrawals by $100,300. The quarter of a million in gold coin which had been wired for the day before came down from San Francisco, but there was no need for it. Lehman Bros., large bankers in New Lehman Bros., large bankers in New Mork, offered heavy assistance to the Farmers' and Merchants', but Presi-dent Hellman promptly wired that help was not needed.

In the Los Angeles Savings Bank, which is sometimes called the Farmers and Merchants' annex, depositors were still paid on demand. Only in the case of very heavy term depositors was the of very heavy term depositors was the legal notice required. All others received their money on presentation of bank books and the proper vouchers. So far as known this is the only savings bank in the city which did not generally require notice of its depositors.

THE BANK OF AMERICA. Things followed their ususal routin at this institution. As a matter of fact there has been less demand on this bank than any other. Cashier Stewart said to a Times reporter yesterday sain to a morning: "We are able to stand any demand made upon us. We have had no great excitement to contend with. Our bank is in as good a condition as a bank can be."

It was erroneously stated vesterday that the Bank of America had secured a large accommodation from the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank. It should have read that a tender was made but declined by the Bank of America, which found that it did not require the coin, being able to draw on reseifunds in San Francisco to the amoi of more than $100,000.

There is no excitement whatever about the matter, and there is no run on either the First National or the National Bank of Pomona. Both these latter banks have more money on hand than ever before, and the business men deposited as usual all day. This fact was most plainly demonstrated at the

This notice checked the drain that had set in, and but few gave notice of intention to withdraw, but finally drifted out onto the street. Up to noon but ten depositors had given notice to withdraw. Of these, an examination into the matter reveals the somewhat humorous fact that nine of them were depositors to the extent of less than $100. But one had over $100 and less than $500 to his credit. The above details are given merely to show above details are given merely to show how a little scare among small deposit ors may develop into a serious run if is not checked by some heroic treat

The excitement around all the banks did not last more than thirty or forty minutes alltogether until the streets were cleared, and people had gone about their business, satisfied that the about their business, satisfied that the various banking institutions had done the very best possible thing in closing their doors at the very start of the excitement. The Times reporter, in conversation with the officers of the banks, was told that the banks still had a large amount of gold on hand, but from observation of the panic in Los Angeles the previous day, they believed the people would start a run on them here, and the previous day, they believed the peo-ple would start a run on them here, and that they thought the better plan would be to shut off any possibility of a collapse by closing their doors tempora-rily until they could fix themselves so that all depositors could be paid off in full if they so desired. Every bank in Santa Ana and Orange county is as full if they so desired. Every bank in Santa Ana and Orange county is as good as gold, and will pay their depositors every dollar they owe them just as soon as they can realize on their securities. No bank doing a successful business can, with a few hours notice, pay their depositors in full, and every intelligent citizen ought to be thoroughly conversant with this fact and act accordingly. The banks are all right, but the people are all wrong, inright, but the people are all wrong, in-asmuch as they are not inclined to give asmuch as they are not inclined to give the banks a reasonable opportunity to realize on their securities. In fact, the people do not need or want their money for any porticular use. They are only unnecessarily scared. They have lost their conservatism, and their thoughtless action in rushing to the banks and clamoring for coin is as suicidal to their business interests as it is unbecoming, unbusiness-like, senseless and uncalled

To sum up the financial situation in Orange county, it was never better than it is today. The county was never in a more prosperous condition, and money never was more plentiful, except, per-haps, during the palmiest days of the boom. The banks have never been on a more substantial and firm footing than during the past few months. Had han during the past few months the people precipitated this panic three years ago, when the evil effects of the years ago, when the evil effects of the boom were being most keenly felt, there would, perhaps, have been some sort of excuse for the uneasiness now felt by some of the more wary of small depos-tiors, but for the matter to take on such a continue coloring, in the year, face of serious coloring in the very face of the good times of the past two years is ridiculously absurd, to say the least.

The sober-minded business men of Santa Ana and Orange county are not Santa Ana and Orange county are not alarmed over the present condition of affairs, and in a few days the fright-ened populace will see that they may be correctly likened unto the old story of "Harry and the Guldepost."

en account of the Western and Pacific Coast bank troubles. All day banks been receiving bad news from California, particularly from Los Angeles, together with demands for currency. The

THE TRANSFER METHOD.

How the Banks Increase Their Funds by Telegraph. Washington, June 22.—|By the Assoclated Press.] Extensive shipments of money by telegraph from New York to San Francisco were made today by di-rection of United States Treasurer Morgan. The bank failures yesterday on the Pacific Coast evidently spurred the banks to increase their supply of ready money to meet any emergency that may arise. This money was transferred in a simple manner. A bank in San Francisco telegraphs its New York correspondent to place in the sub-treasury at New York a given the sub-treasury at New York a given sum of money to its credit to be sent to the San Francisco bank. The sub-treasurer at New York telegraphs the sub-treasurer at San Francisco to credit the bank with a given amount of money. The San Francisco bank thus saves express charges and the Government, which reserves gold for the money it transfers by telegraph, builds up its gold. It is a mutual arrangement by which the banks and Government are benefited.

THE SITUATION IN 'FRISCO. The Chronicle Calls the Los Angeles Run a "Silly Scare."

SAN FRANCISCO (Cal.,) June 22.-|Special.] I learn at a late hour tonight that the prevailing contagion among the banks down south has reached this city, and that the first, and perhaps the only, symptoms of it will be in the failure of the Pacific Bank to open its doors tomorrow morning. That concern made a strong appeal to the clear-ing-house today, but, as many of the se-curities were not of the gilt-edged sort ing-house today, but, as many of the securities were not of the gilt-edged sort now imperatively demanded, they met with a refusal, and a failure to open up at the usual hour tomorrow will result. As might be expected, the other banks look upon the situation with some uneasiness, not because of their own weakness, but because of their own weakness, but because of the natural effect a suspension by any one of the local banks will have on the public mind. The Pacific is said to have been behind many illegitimate schemes and carrying many of them at a big loss; consequently a big failure is feared.

The senior McDonald is presumed to be in New York, as is his son Frank, Richard H. McDonald, Jr., being the only one of the family on the ground. While they are the holders of some securities of one of the Los Angeles street railways, I am informed that that corporation's fortunes will be in no wise affected by the failure or success of the Pacific Bank, but that the Californian Magazine, which it has been carrying at a loss, will be likely to feel the blow very keenly. There was received here from New York $1,400,000 as a strengthener for certain of the banks which are preparing for the worst, but not all of it reached the coffers of the concern at the corner of Pine and Sansome streets. The Chronworst, but not all of it reached the cof-fers of the concern at the corner of Pine and Sansome streets. The Chron-icle, in reviewing the situation regard-ing the cyclone among the Los Angeles banks, will say tomorrow: "It is very evident that the run on most of the Southern California banks is the result of nothing but a silly scare, and that the banks are perfectly solvent."

This is the prevailing sentiment among this city's financiers. I understand that the Pacific has already prepared a notice of suspension for the morning papers, but up to midnight it has not been handed in.

THE PACIFIC BANK.

A Statement of Its Condition According to Last Reports.

San Francisco, June 22.—[By the Associated Press.] At a meeting of the board of directors of the Pacific Bank tonight it was decided not to open the tonight it was decided not to open the doors tomorrow. The direct cause of the suspension is a notice from the Clearing House Association that the bank's paper would not hereafter be accepted. It has been known for some time that the bank was laboring under financial difficulties, and the announcement of the action of the board does not create great surprise.

The Pacific Bank was organized in 1863 by R. H. McDonald, and its present manager is R. H. McDonald, Jr. It has a paid up capital stock of $1,000,000, a nominal reserve of about $700,000 and deposits of about $1,500,000 according to the recent official report of the State Bank Examiners. Its loans and discounts were said to be about $2,500,000. The failure seems to be altogether due to the recent monetary troubles, and it is expected that the depositors will lose nothing.

Manager McDonald says that the bank will resume business in a short time, and that the suspension is resorted to that the bank may realize bank will resume business in a short time, and that the suspension is resorted to that the bank may realize from its assets and protect itself from a sudden run by depositors.

It may be that closing the doors of the Pacific Bank will result in a suspension of the People's Home Savings Bank, a collateral institution under practically the same management. This has a guaranteed capital stock of $1,000,000, of which one-third is paid up in cash. According to a recent statement of the bank, it has over 10,000 depositors, and total deposits of $1,700,000. Its assets consist of real estate, county and school district bonds, etc. The depositors will probably be paid in full. There seems to be no reason to apprehend that the suspension of these institutions will precipitate a run on other banks. The leading institutions are well fortified and prepared to meet any ordinary emergency.

R. H. McDonald, Jr., tonight said he expected a run would be made tomorrow on the People's Home Savings Bank in consequence of the closing of the Pacific Bank, but the bank officials would take advantage of the law which allows savings banks to defer payment ten, thirty and sixty days. The institution is perfectly solvent, he said, and in this manner hopes to tide over the present emergency.

ST. VINCENT'S COLLEGE

wenty fourth Annual Commencement Exercises Last Evening.

The twenty-fourth annual commencenent of St. Vincent's College took place last evening at the Grand Operahouse in the presence of hundreds of interested friends. The exercises were of ested friends. The exercises were of an order deserving the highest praise, and the ihree orations would have been a credit to those far elder than the young men who had the public honor of their delivery, W. H. Workman, Jr., R. J. Dillon and J. A. McGarry.

Mr. Workman's theme. 'The Inventor,' was ably treated, and his enunciation was nearly perfect. He followed up the inventor's career, claiming for him an honorable place in society. The inventor has acquired a power that is almost unlimited over matter; he will be the sun of the future day, shedding brightness over all matter; he will be the sun of the future day, shedding brightness over all things. The man of the twentieth century will have but to drop his nickel in a slot, press a button, and electricity will do the rest. All this is due to the inventor. The young orator was heartily applauded.

Mr. Dillon treated of "The Stage." His thoughts were in a happy veln, and his allesions were particularly to the successful actor, the true artist, who tries to reproduce in himself the pictures he sees in others. He paints his pictures in natural colors, yet permits us to see them in all the colors stained by art. His allusion to the stage as the guiding star that shall lead modern artwas very fine, and was rewarded by

In beauty of composition and finish of delivery Mr. McGarry's oration, subject "The Statesman," could har dly be excelled by one of his years. In his tribute to the ideal statesman as one who must possess individuality, resolution, pluck; who must look not to pelf or praise, but must have a motive for all his powers, so that his private character shall conform to his public acts until he shall be recognized as one of nature's noblemen, he became eloquent. Yet his most glorious tribute was paid, as class orator, to the faculty of St. Vincent's and the class of '93. An ovation of flowers and applause followed his exit.

Later, flowers were bestowed unspar-Later, flowers were bestowed unspar-ingly upon all the participants in the evening's exercises. Then followed the conferring of degrees, presentation of medals and distribution of premiums, and an address by Hon. J. D. Lynch. Enjoyable music was furnished by the operahouse orchestra.

RIENDS are needed when a situation of distress occurs. When everything is prosperous and there are no ill winds to disturb the horizon, men do not rely upon one another. When a disturbance like the present occurs men of cool heads and determination should throw themselves into the breach and carry with them confidence and tone. Men, who under a guise of friendship for the prosperity of the town do everything they can to wreck their competitors, should be remembered with scorn and indignation in the future. Reactions are sure to set in. Los Angeles has as much money today as it ever had. The town and country has been on an unusual and healthy basis. All kinds of legitimate business is in an unusual state. Everything is prosperous. We solicit checks in payment of goods for any amount on the First National, the Los Angeles and Southern California National Banks. We consider them the very soundest in every way. They are sound beyond the shadow of a doubt, and any one can can have all the goods they want for checks or certificates of deposit on any of these banks in this house. No man can afford to lose his head at the present time. Never jump out of a fifth-story window in event of fire when a stairway is handy; think first. Never in the history of this business has it shown greater prosperity than this season. The past month has been one of continued gains, and during the few days of excitement there has been no let up. We believe the people have confidence in our methods. They should have. We never make excuses by being put out. We have the goods we advertise at the advertised price, and the descriptions are not misleading in any way. You should have confidence in your banks; they have confidence in you. You certainly have confidence in our cloak department. The sales are gaining each mouth. Now doing more cloak trade than all the others combined. All-wool capes as low as $2; more and better ones for $3,50, $4, $5, $6, $7, $8, $9, $10; all new this season. We cut, fit and baste capes free for all who buy their materials here. All shades in broadcloths. Plenty of heliotropes, the big seller for fall. Greens, heliotropes, snuff browns, blues and tans will be the cloak shades for fall.

INCLINE CABLE STARTED.

On Wednesday, for the first time, the great cable on the incline of the Pasadena great cable on the incline of the Pasadena Mountain Railway, was set in motion by electric power. Everything moved smoothly and according to plan. Since then the passenger cars bave been put upon the track, and will today (Friday) go up and down for the first time, transporting house furnishings for the Echo Mountain House Aunex.

The first passenger travel is announced for the line for Saturday of this week. An excursion starting from Los Angeles may be shared by Pasadena people so desiring. Meantime the second large gas engine has been set up and tested in the junction powerhouse, and the mountain railway is at last an accomplished fact.

THE FINANCIAL OUTLOOK.

THE FINANCIAL OUTLOOK. The Pasadena plan for curing a panic before it commenced its run has proved a great success; it has redemonstrated the truth of the maxim that an ounce of prevention is worth no end of cure. Wednesday closed in harmony with the expression of confidence by our people in our banks and bankers, as already detailed, and Thursday came and went in like manner. Whether the banks did more or less business than usual, depended wholly upon the legitimate demands of business, independent of any uneasiness caused by what had bappened elsewhere or what might happen here. The Pasadena plan for curing a par

If Pasadenians are inclined to take son If Pasadenians are inclined to take some credit to themselves for cool-headedness at a time when that quality commanded a premium, who is there to blame them for so doing? The Pasadena plan might well take its place among the list of desirable measures for the study and emulation of even far more pretentious communities, for in it there is a vast store of hard horse sense, and out of it has come a great good to the entire community.

Pasadena remains all right.

The Earl Fruit Company has shipped its last car of Pasadena oranges for the present season, and closed up its business at this point. Its local manager, C. D. Dillon, left Thursday evening for Sacramento, where he will have charge of the company saffairs for the present. The total shipment of oranges made by the Earl company from here amounts to 187 carloads. Enough other oranges went from Pasadena to swell the grand total to nearly 210 carloads—more than twenty-five carloads above the best estimates of a month ago. The season closed, however, without the rally in price for which growers so long and anxiously waited. Probably the total net returns to the producers upon the Pasadena orange crop for 1893 will not exceed $28,000. Earlier in the season, and computed upon the market of past, years, the expectation reached $50,000, which leaves an uncomfortable discrepancy.

Important Matters Before the City Council—There were three important matters before Pomona's City Council at the regular weekly meeting Tuesday evening. The Council was called to orderspromptly at 7:30 o'clock, and worked hard in the hopes of getting through in time to go to the cantata at the M. E. Church, but the large volume of business kept them until 10 o'clock. The matter of the Southern Pacific line to South Riverside came up before the Council, and the property owners along Reservoir street seemed to be of the impression that the petition for a franchise along that street should be withdrawn. They said they understood the roadbed was to be located on the property line east of Reservoir street sate should be withdrawn. They said they understood the roadbed was to be located on the property line east of that they would no longer be compelled to come to the Council meetings in-order to see that the franchise did not pass. Councilman Graber said the right-of-way agent had asked for one more week to get matters in shape. He had seen all the property-owners, and had settled with all of them except Mrs. Edgar. He was sure he could settle with her before another week without going into court about the land, and so the franchise was laid over one week. As things now stand, all the owners along the right-of-way have been settled with except Mrs. Edgar, and of course there is no longer any doubt about the line being completed.

Board of Supervisors yesterday passed by a unanimous vote a resolu-tion rescinding the former order, made by the preceding members on April 1, 1892, providing for the apointment of 1892, providing for the apointment of outside deputy sheriffs. The order was owing to the recent decision rendered by the District Attornest which declared that the claims of such deputies against the county were illegal. The supervisors generally admit that the new rule will result in a greater expense to the county, but as the District Attorney has virtually pronounced the apointments unauthorized, they believe there is no other course to pursue than the one adopted.

There was a new attraction at Athletic Park yesterday efternoon. Capt... Glenalvin has secured the services of a new "phenom," a young pitcher named Kemerer, from San Diego.

The crowd was not as large as the astic. Uncle Henry's men put up a good game, except in the very last inning, when they fell down with a dull

Balsz, who generally has excellent control of the ball, was, if anything etter than usual during the first eight innings, but at the tail-end he lost his cunning. So did the rest of Uncle's hired men. The score was 8 to 2 when the Angels came up for their last

sent Lytle home, and, after Kemerer's sent Lytle home, and, after Kemerer's fly out, Lohman's cored on a wild throw. Then "Rasty" Wright landed on first through an error and "Kid" Hulen beat the ball out, which again filled the bases. McCauley took base on balls, which forced Mr. Hughes home. Then Hutchinson's hit brought Mr. Wright to the plate. Glenalvin's force brought Hulen in, and Lytle was at bat again when Glenalvin tried to reach second, but was declared out for running out of line. This made three out and settled This made three out and settled

Uncle's heavy hitters touched him up for four hits, two of which were inning. him up for four hits, two of which were doubles and one a triple. These, to-gether with two bases on balls, netted Uncle six runs. In the first inning he allowed three hits, but outside of these two innings his pitching was about as good as any seen on the grounds this season.
